Managing Challenging Behaviors

In this program we will define behavior as it pertains to the population, understand what the cause & effect of behaviors mean to the caregiver and explore individual learning styles. We will explore a few commonly used problem solving methods, attempt to understand assessment protocols for changes in behavior and consider prevention approaches. We will discuss self care of the caregiver, consistency, empowerment and choice as we look at behaviors like handling a client's anger, resistance, anxiety, as well as disrespectful and sexual behaviors. And finally time permitting, we will also learn a couple of skills for communicating in challenging situations. This session is interactive so bring your challenges and let's work on some solution seeking.

Presented by Shanti Potts

Shanti Potts has over 25 years' experience working with and advocating for seniors, with a passion for teaching and learning. She works extensively with unpaid family caregivers and professional care providers. She has been employed as an instructor at Clark Community College, Lower Columbia Community College, Area Agency on Aging & Disabilities of SW Washington, Developmental Disabilities Administration & PeaceHealth Southwest Medical Center. Shanti has presented at conferences for the King County Prosecutor's office, the Alzheimer's Association, the Clark County Bar Association, the Nisqually Tribal Elders, Clark County Sheriff's Crisis Intervention trainings, and various other local organizations.
