Medical Assistance

Medical Assistance

This section summarizes medical-only and cash-related medical cases and/or clients. Most medical programs reported in previous publications were transitioned to the State's new Health Benefit Exchange<sup>1</sup> beginning October 1, 2013 as a result of the implementation of the Affordable Care Act (ACA).

With the implementation of the federal Affordable Care Act (ACA), the majority of families, pregnant women, and children receiving Medicaid began transitioning to the new Modified Adjusted Gross Income (MAGI) Medicaid in the State's new Health Benefit Exchange, starting October 1, 2013. The Department began transitioning cases eligible for MAGI Medicaid at the time of a client's Medicaid eligibility case review. This transition accounts for the significant Medicaid caseload decrease in DSHS during 2014. Medicaid applications to DSHS after ACA implementation are limited to those eligible due to age or disability, referred to as "Classic" Medicaid.

The implementation of the ACA significantly changed ESA activities; to more clearly show the change, the Briefing Book is now reporting numbers for both medical-only and cash-related medical cases and/or clients (whereas in years past the only numbers reported were for medical-only cases). In addition, cases or clients served by HCA offices are now excluded. It is also notable that prior to ACA implementation, caseloads could contain more than one client, while post-ACA, each client became a unique case.

- Cash-related medical cases include families and individuals who receive medical coverage associated with a cash assistance program, such as Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF); Aged, Blind or Disabled (ABD) cash assistance; or Refugee Cash Assistance (RCA).
- Medical-only cases include families or individuals who receive stand-alone medical coverage that is not associated with a cash assistance program.

<sup>1</sup> The Washington Healthplanfinder, administered by the Health Benefit Exchange (HBE) is the on-line portal that automatically determines individuals and families eligibility for MAGI Medicaid. The Health Care Authority (HCA), as the State agency responsible for Medicaid, administers most of the medical programs covered in this report. However, ESA was responsible for eligibility determinations for these programs prior to the implementation of the Affordable Care Act (ACA).
