

Missouri adjustments to gross income:

Missouri's economic table bases the calculations on an "adjusted" gross income. This is "gross income" as it is commonly understood with adjustments for:

1. court ordered maintenance that is actually being received
2. court or administratively ordered child support for children not the subject of this proceeding that is actually being paid
3. court ordered maintenance that is being paid
4. children of other relationships (but not step-children) in the parent's primary physical custody.
