Summary

WAC 388-418-0020, “How does the department determine the date of change affects by benefits?”

The Worker Responsibility section for this WAC was updated to include instructions on how to determine the BEG amount when a newborn’s date of birth is between the application date and interview date.

The update also distinguishes the difference in the effective date for when someone (other than a newborn) moves into the household between the application date and interview date.
