

ASSISTED LIVING FACILITIES (ALF)

Disclosure of Services Required by RCW 18.20.300

The assisted living facility licensee shall disclose to the residents, the residents' legal representative if any, and if not, the residents' representative if any, and to interested consumers upon request, the scope of care and services offered, using the form developed and provided by the department, in addition to any supplemental information that may be provided by the licensee.

This disclosure form provides initial general information about our assisted living facility, and allows you to compare care services of different assisted living facilities. Prior to moving in, you should visit an assisted living facility to ask how they will assist you with your unique needs and preferences.

Assisted living facilities may change the services that are available and the charges for these services, by providing thirty days advance notice to residents. However, an assisted living facility must give you ninety days advance notice of any voluntary decrease in services that would affect your decision as to whether you would want to move to a different location or require you to move out.

Who may live in an assisted living facility?

- No assisted living facility is permitted to provide continuing services to you if you need to have a registered nurse frequently evaluate your condition. However, if you require frequent nursing evaluation and we can meet your needs, you may be allowed to remain in the assisted living facility, when;
  - You have a short term illness that is expected to last less than fourteen days, or
  - You are receiving hospice services.
- The assisted living facility may not be able to serve you if you need services beyond those disclosed on this form.

You may need to move out when we cannot meet your needs and moving out is necessary for your welfare. However, each assisted living facility must attempt to "reasonably accommodate" your needs before it can require you to move out.

Per chapter 388-78A-2020, "Reasonable accommodation" and "reasonably accommodate" have the meaning given in federal and state antidiscrimination laws and regulations which include, but are not limited to, the following:

- (1) Reasonable accommodation means that the assisted living facility must:
  - (a) Not impose admission criteria that excludes individuals unless the criteria is necessary for the provision of assisted living facility services;
  - (b) Make reasonable modification to its policies, practices or procedures if the modifications are necessary to accommodate the needs of the resident;
  - (c) Provide additional aids and services to the resident.
- (2) Reasonable accommodations are not required if:
  - (a) The resident or individual applying for admission presents a significant risk to the health or safety of others that cannot be eliminated by the reasonable accommodation;
  - (b) The reasonable accommodations would fundamentally alter the nature of the services provided by the assisted living facility; or
  - (c) The reasonable accommodations would cause an undue burden, meaning a significant financial or administrative burden.

Notification of increased service which requires a 30 day notice, is waived in the event a resident has an unanticipated, unplanned, and substantial condition that requires an immediate change in care services that cannot meet the 30-day notification requirement under RCW 70.129.060(4).

1. Services / Care

All assisted living facilities must provide the care and services listed below, according to what you have agreed to in your negotiated service agreement.

A. Activities: All assisted living facilities must help you arrange social, recreational, religious or other activities in the assisted living facility and in the community. Washington State law, RCW 70.129.030(4), requires the assisted living facility to inform each individual, or their representative, in writing, of the services, items and activities customarily available in the facility or arranged for by the facility as permitted by the facility's license. Contact the assisted living facility for this information if not already provided.

- Additional activities / comments:

B. Food and Diets: All assisted living facilities must provide three meals per day, nutritious snacks, and prescribed general low sodium diets, general diabetic diets, and mechanical soft diets. Additionally, we are not required but have chosen to provide the following diets:
