Housing and Essential Needs (HEN) Referral Incapacity Review

☐ Inability to make choices regarding residence. The person needs assistance with making choices for selecting a residence. This includes the selection of the place of residence, the choice of a landlord, the choice of a roommate, and the choice of arent or care. The person may have housing needs, and may have support needs. The person may be dependent on supports and services. Additional information may be found at

https://www.dshs.wa.gov/fsa/forms.

☐ Inability to realize the right to live a full, productive life. The person needs assistance with realizing the right to live a full, productive life. This includes the ability to make choices about personal care, and the ability to make choices about social participation. The person may have support needs. Additional information may be found at

https://www.dshs.wa.gov/fsa/forms.

☐ Inability to make choices about medical care services. The person needs assistance with making choices about medical care services. This includes the selection of a healthcare provider, the selection of a hospital, and the selection of a medical treatment. The person may have support needs. Additional information may be found at

https://www.dshs.wa.gov/fsa/forms.

☐ Inability to make choices about financial matters. The person needs assistance with making choices about financial matters. This includes the selection of a bank, the selection of a financial advisor, and the selection of a financial investment. The person may have support needs. Additional information may be found at

https://www.dshs.wa.gov/fsa/forms.

☐ Inability to make choices about legal matters. The person needs assistance with making choices about legal matters. This includes the selection of a lawyer, the selection of a legal consultant, and the selection of a legal document. The person may have support needs. Additional information may be found at

https://www.dshs.wa.gov/fsa/forms.

☐ Inability to make choices about family matters. The person needs assistance with making choices about family matters. This includes the selection of a family member, the selection of a family member to provide care, and the selection of a family member to provide support. The person may have support needs. Additional information may be found at

https://www.dshs.wa.gov/fsa/forms.

☐ Inability to make choices about community matters. The person needs assistance with making choices about community matters. This includes the selection of a community organization, the selection of a community leader, and the selection of a community resource. The person may have support needs. Additional information may be found at

https://www.dshs.wa.gov/fsa/forms.

☐ Inability to make choices about educational matters. The person needs assistance with making choices about educational matters. This includes the selection of a school, the selection of a teacher, and the selection of an educational program. The person may have support needs. Additional information may be found at

https://www.dshs.wa.gov/fsa/forms.

☐ Inability to make choices about recreational matters. The person needs assistance with making choices about recreational matters. This includes the selection of a recreational activity, the selection of a recreational venue, and the selection of a recreational partner. The person may have support needs. Additional information may be found at

https://www.dshs.wa.gov/fsa/forms.

☐ Inability to make choices about cultural matters. The person needs assistance with making choices about cultural matters. This includes the selection of a cultural event, the selection of a cultural resource, and the selection of a cultural leader. The person may have support needs. Additional information may be found at

https://www.dshs.wa.gov/fsa/forms.

☐ Inability to make choices about spiritual matters. The person needs assistance with making choices about spiritual matters. This includes the selection of a spiritual leader, the selection of a spiritual resource, and the selection of a spiritual activity. The person may have support needs. Additional information may be found at

https://www.dshs.wa.gov/fsa/forms.

☐ Inability to make choices about religious matters. The person needs assistance with making choices about religious matters. This includes the selection of a religious leader, the selection of a religious resource, and the selection of a religious activity. The person may have support needs. Additional information may be found at

https://www.dshs.wa.gov/fsa/forms.

☐ Inability to make choices about political matters. The person needs assistance with making choices about political matters. This includes the selection of a political leader, the selection of a political resource, and the selection of a political activity. The person may have support needs. Additional information may be found at

https://www.dshs.wa.gov/fsa/forms.

☐ Inability to make choices about social matters. The person needs assistance with making choices about social matters. This includes the selection of a social leader, the selection of a social resource, and the selection of a social activity. The person may have support needs. Additional information may be found at

https://www.dshs.wa.gov/fsa/forms.

☐ Inability to make choices about economic matters. The person needs assistance with making choices about economic matters. This includes the selection of an economic resource, the selection of an economic activity, and the selection of an economic leader. The person may have support needs. Additional information may be found at

https://www.dshs.wa.gov/fsa/forms.