Should I schedule?

I'm testing for a language _other than_ the six listed above.

I would like to test for the languages listed above.

Are you new to LTC testing?

Yes, I'm new to testing. I've never tested before.

No, I'm not new to testing. I have tested with LTC before.

Have you passed an oral or written exam?

You are able to schedule when schedules are released in accordance to the Change Memo.

You can schedule ONE test for each authorization or certificate type. Example:

- ONE medical oral or written
- ONE social oral or written
- Etc.

No, you should not schedule a test. Priority is given to testing candidates who are halfway to receiving their certificate.

Please visit our website in the coming months, as this this could change.

No, I have not passed an exam, yet.

Yes, I've passed one exam

Are your passed exams expired (a written test expires in 2 years; an oral test does not expire)?

Yes, they are expired.

No, my passing exams are still valid.
