

Juvenile Arrests

The figures of arrests do not represent every juvenile arrest made during the year, but reflect the information that was reported by the arresting agencies.

Arrest data contained in the following pages were provided by the Washington Uniform Crime Reporting (WUCR) program of the Washington Association of Sheriffs and Police Chiefs. The information is reported by individual law enforcement agencies, collected and categorized by WUCR. Staff of the Governor's Juvenile Justice Advisory Committee (GJJAC) provided the analysis and summary.

Arrests shown on the following tables actually underreport the number of juveniles arrested; these numbers have not been adjusted by subtracting the population of police jurisdictions that did not report arrest data to UCR. The figures of arrests do not represent every juvenile arrest made during the year, but reflect the information that was reported by the arresting agencies. Please note that juvenile arrest data provided in GJJAC reports do not include runaways or curfew violators reported to the WUCR by individual agencies.

Available reports for 2007 represent approximately 93 percent of the state's juvenile population, an increase in the reporting population from 2006 (91 percent). The percentage of the population represented has remained fairly consistent from 2002 to 2007 with 90 to 93 percent of the population represented. From 1998 to 2001 the percentages of the population represented was higher, from 94 to 96 percent. However, the percentage of the juvenile population represented from 1998 to 2007 is a substantial increase from prior years—available reports for 1997 accounted for about 86 percent of the state's juvenile population, while reports for 1995-1996 accounted for approximately 84 percent.

Rates for the various categories of offenses are based on the population of juveniles age 10 through 17. There were 35,865 juvenile arrests reported in 2007. This figure represents an arrest rate of 49.8 for every thousand juveniles in the state age 10 through 17, an increase from the 2006 rate of 48.0. The 2006 juvenile arrest rate is the lowest reported for Washington State since prior to 1982. There was a 38 percent decrease in the rate per 1,000 juveniles age 10-17 from 1998 to 2007.

From 1985 to 1988, the arrest rate for juveniles age 10-17 remained fairly steady at approximately 90 per 1,000. The rate decreased in the 1989-1990 period to about 86 per 1,000, and for the years, 1991-1992, the rates were approximately 92 per 1,000. The juvenile arrest rate for 1993 was 90.1, and increased to a high of 94.9 in 1994.

Arrest data for 2007 include 196 juveniles under the age of 10 (representing less than one percent of the total juvenile arrests). There was a 23 percent decrease in the number of youth arrested under the age of 10 years from 2006 to 2007, and there has been a 65 percent decrease from 2000 to 2007.

Comparing Juvenile and Adult Arrests

When comparing arrests for adults and juveniles in Washington State in 2007, juveniles comprised approximately 14 percent of the total number of arrests statewide, no change from 2005 and 2006, and a decrease from 15 percent in 2003 and 2004. Adults continue to represent a significantly larger proportion of the arrests for drug and alcohol offenses (90 percent) than juveniles (approximately 10 percent of the total arrests in 2006 and 2007).

Approximately 26 percent of property crime arrests were juvenile arrests in 2007 (no change from 2006). There was an increase in the proportion of juvenile violent crime arrests in 2007 compared to 2006 (juveniles represented 19 percent of the total arrests for violent crimes in 2007, and 18 percent of the total arrests for violent crimes in 2006).

Juvenile Violent Crime Arrests

There was a 15 percent increase in the juvenile arrest rate for violent offenses from 2006 to 2007. The rate of arrests for violent offenses was 2.3 per 1,000 juveniles age 10-17 in 2007, an increase from the rate of 2.0 per 1,000 juveniles age 10-17 from 2004 to 2006 (the lowest rate reported since prior to 1982). There was a 30 percent decrease in the violent crime arrest rate from 1998 to 2007.

It must be taken into account when looking at violent offense trends in Washington that beginning in 1994, the method of accounting for assaults in the Seattle Police Department changed - 12 classifications of assaults which were previously categorized as "violent offenses" are now categorized as "other offenses" from 1995 forward. Data in this report do not historically adjust for this change.

The 1,650 arrests of juveniles for violent crimes in 2007 breakdown as follows:

- 17 arrests for murder or manslaughter.
- 127 arrests for forcible rape.
- 921 arrests for aggravated assault.
- 585 arrests for robbery.

Of the above four violent offense categories (see also Table 48), juvenile arrests for murder or manslaughter and forcible rape showed a decrease in the number of arrests from 2006 to 2007, while there was an increase in the number of arrests for aggravated assaults and robbery. The arrest rates per 1,000 juveniles age 10-17 showed: a 14 percent increase in the arrest rate for aggravated assault arrests and for robbery arrests from 2006 to 2007; and a five percent decrease in the arrest rate for forcible rape arrests, and a 33 percent decrease in the rate for murder or manslaughter arrests from 2006 to 2007.

In 2007, 10 counties had a violent offense rate above the statewide average, while one county (Yakima) had a juvenile violent offense rate that was more than twice the statewide average.

Juvenile Arrests for Other Offenses

Larceny – theft has continued to represent the offense for which youth were most often arrested.

The rate of juvenile arrests for property crimes increased by approximately six percent from 2006 to 2007 (from 18.8 per 1,000 youth age 10-17 to 19.9 per 1,000 youth age 10-17). The 2006 rate was the lowest reported rate for juvenile property offenses since prior to 1985. The rate of arrests decreased by 46 percent from 1998 to 2007.

Larceny – theft has continued to represent the offense for which youth were most often arrested (23 percent of the total juvenile arrests in 2007). Larceny arrests comprised approximately 58 percent of the property crimes in 2007, a slight increase from 56 percent of the total juvenile property crimes in 2006. Approximately 19 percent of the arrests for property crimes were for vandalism, and about 13 percent were for burglary in 2007.

In 2007, the rate of juvenile arrests for drug and alcohol offenses was 11.4 per 1,000 juveniles age 10-17. This represents an increase (approximately 5 percent) in the rate from 2006 to 2007. The 2004 and 05 rates are consistent with rates for juvenile drug and alcohol offenses in the early 1990s.

Within the drug and alcohol offense category, in 2007, drug offenses comprised approximately 38 percent and alcohol offenses comprised approximately 62 percent of all juvenile drug and alcohol arrests. The majority of all juvenile arrests for drug offenses were for “possession” (approximately 88 percent in 2007).

Juvenile Arrests by County

In 2007, two counties (Adams and Cowlitz) had a juvenile arrest rate that was more than twice the statewide average per 1,000 youth for total arrests.

The arrest rates for counties with very small juvenile populations (such as Columbia, Garfield, and Wahkiakum) may be distorted, because a few arrests can change the rates dramatically.

When the 39 counties are ranked by arrest rates in 2007, the five largest counties rank: King (29th); Pierce (27th); Snohomish (25th), Spokane (35th, due to significant under-reporting) and Clark (18th).

In 2007, there were 14 counties with juvenile populations age 10-17 over 5,000, with an arrest rate above the statewide average of 49.8 per 1,000 juveniles age 10-17: Benton, Chelan, Clallam, Clark, Cowlitz, Franklin, Grays Harbor, Lewis, Mason, Okanogan, Skagit, Walla Walla, Whatcom and Yakima.

In 2007, two counties (Adams and Cowlitz) had a juvenile arrest rate that was more than twice the statewide average per 1,000 youth for total arrests. Three counties had arrest rates that were more than twice the statewide average for arrests for drug and alcohol offenses in 2007: Asotin, Columbia and Jefferson, and two counties (Adams and Skagit) had a juvenile arrest rate for property crimes that was more than twice the statewide average. The following five counties had an arrest rate that was more than twice the statewide average for “all other offenses”: Adams, Benton, Cowlitz, Franklin and Mason.

Juvenile Arrests by Race

The racial distribution of total juvenile arrests for 2007 showed that approximately 82 percent were White, 11.8 percent were Black, 2.9 percent were American Indian, and 2.8 percent were Asian youth.

American Indian	3	4	3	3	3	4	3	3
Asian/Pac. Islander	3	3	3	3	3	3	3	3

*Note: Race proportions include persons of Hispanic origin. While persons of Hispanic origin can be of any race, the majority of youth of Hispanic origin are reported in the White race category. Percentages may not total 100% due to rounding.

Arrest rates for violent offenses by race in 2007 show the following:

	WHITE	BLACK	AMERICAN INDIAN	ASIAN & PACIFIC ISLANDER

% of Arrests
Homicide/Manslaughter	64.7	11.8	23.5	0.0

Robbery	49.2	40.9	2.7	7.2
Aggravated Assault*	78.8	16.1	2.6	2.5

 Beginning in 1994 the method of accounting for assaults in Seattle P.D. changed. Prior data included 12 classifications of assaults, which are now categorized as "other offenses."

Note: The 2007 population estimates by race used in this table include youth of Hispanic origin in the total percentages; while persons of Hispanic origin can be of any race, the majority of youth of Hispanic origin are reported in the White race category (population source: "Easy Access to Juvenile Populations 1990-2007," online. Available: <http://www.ojjdp.ncjrs.gov/ojstatbb/ezapop/>).

Juvenile Arrests by Gender

In 2007, females accounted for approximately 29 percent of the total juvenile arrests, no change from the percentage of total arrests in 2006. The percentage of total juvenile arrests committed by females has remained constant at 29 to 30% of total arrests over the past five years. From 1998 to 2007, the percentage of total arrests increased by approximately eight percent for girls, while in comparison the percentage of total arrests for males decreased by three percent from 1998 to 2007.

During 2007 females accounted for approximately:

- 29 percent of all juvenile arrests (no change from 2006).
- 28 percent of all juvenile arrests for drug and alcohol offenses (an increase from 2006).
- 30 percent of all juvenile arrests for property offenses (a slight decrease from 2006).
- 18 percent of all juvenile arrests for violent offenses (an increase from 2006).
- 29 percent of all juvenile arrests for all other offenses (no change from 2006).

Girls accounted for approximately 30 percent of the juvenile arrests for property crimes in 2007, while the percentage of total arrests of females for property crimes decreased slightly (by one percent) from 2006 to 2007. Girls represented 41 percent of all juvenile arrests for larceny (theft) in 2007.

Girls accounted for approximately 28 percent of the total juvenile arrests for drug and alcohol offenses, an increase from 2006. The percentage of total arrests for "all other offenses" committed by females remained the same from 2006 to 2007. In 2007, girls represented approximately 38 percent of the arrests for "other assaults"; 41 percent of the juvenile arrests for larceny-theft; 43 percent of the total juvenile arrests for forgery and counterfeiting; approximately 39 percent of all juvenile arrests for fraud and embezzlement; 87 percent of the total juvenile arrests for prostitution and commercial vice; and 34 percent of the juvenile arrests for liquor law violations.

Thus, while the total number of juvenile arrests for committing crimes has decreased substantially over the past ten years (from 53,827 arrests in 1998 to 35,865 in 2007—a 33 percent decrease), the female juvenile arrest trend differs from the male trend (the number of juvenile arrests for boys decreased by 35 percent from 1998 to 2007, compared to a 28 percent decrease for girls). This is consistent with the national trend in the rise in the proportion of females entering the juvenile justice system—"in 1980, 20 percent of all juvenile arrests were female arrests; in 2003, this percentage had increased to 29 percent—with the majority of this growth since the early 1990s" (Source: Snyder, Sickmund, "Juvenile Offenders and Victims: 2006 National Report," OJJDP, OJP, March 2006.)

* Significant under-reporting by law enforcement (a significant percentage of the population within the county was not represented in the county total, as local law enforcement agency(s) did not provide juvenile arrest information); therefore, the actual number of arrests for the county is greater than the total reported.

 Data include juveniles under the age of 10.

Population data source: "Intercensal and Postcensal Estimates of County Population by Age and Sex: 1980-2007," Office of Financial Management, Forecasting Division, September 2007 (modified 10/3/07).

Juvenile arrests data source: Compiled from data provided by the Washington Association of Sheriffs & Police Chiefs, WUCR Program, June 2008; runaways taken into protective custody (1,817) and curfew violators (29) reported to UCR are not included in the "all other arrests" total.

* Significant under-reporting by law enforcement (a significant percentage of the population within the county was not represented in the county total, as local law enforcement agency(s) did not provide juvenile arrest information); therefore, the actual number of arrests for the county is greater than the total reported.

 Data include juveniles under the age of 10.

Drug Offenses include sale or possession of: opium or cocaine and their derivatives (morphine, heroin, codeine), marijuana, synthetic narcotics, and other dangerous nonnarcotic drugs (barbituates, benzedrine, etc.).

Alcohol offenses include: driving under the influence, liquor laws (liquor law violations include transgression of any state or local liquor law except drunkenness and driving while intoxicated) and drunkenness.

Note: 165 arrests were reported to WUCR in 2006 as driving under the influence arrests for juveniles "under age 10"; these arrests were adult arrests or of unknown age, and therefore are not included in the juvenile arrest total (and have been added to the adult arrest total for 2006).

Sources: Population source: "2007 Population Trends," Washington State Office of Financial Management, Forecasting Division, September 2007; Juvenile arrests: compiled from data provided by WASPC, WUCR Program; runaways taken into protective custody and curfew violators reported to UCR are not included in the arrest totals.

* Data include juveniles under the age of 10.

Note: A number of cities are on full law enforcement contracts with other agencies; arrests for these cities, therefore, are included in the total arrests for the respective contracted agency (e.g., Hatton, Lind and Washtucna are on contract with the Adams County S.O.). Therefore, cities who are on full law enforcement contracts do not appear on the list of non-reporting agencies.
