The Congress of the United States mandates DVR and DSB to serve all eligible individuals with disabilities within Washington State, including American Indians and Alaskan Natives who are members of federally recognized tribes.

The Congress of the United States mandates an AIVRS to provide vocational rehabilitation services to eligible American Indians and Alaskan Natives with disabilities living on or near a reservation. The defined service area and defined service population shall be established by the individual AIVRS.

PURPOSE

2. American Indians and Alaskan Natives are offered an informed choice of program, services and service providers;
3. A cooperative and service-oriented relationship is established and maintained between DVR, DSB and AIVRS; and
4. The individual programs and their consumers benefit from shared expertise, shared training, professional collaboration, and the enhanced capabilities that grow from this relationship.
