Acknowledgement

BFET would like to acknowledge and thank the staff, state partners and community-based organizations who contributed precious time to participate in the development of peer mentorship.

Thank you for your thoughtful participation, time, review and helpful input.

Background and Purpose

This mentoring guide is intended to engage Washington state’s Basic Food Employment and Training, or BFET, providers with an intentional peer-to-peer mentoring model that empowers agencies to work collaboratively and support overall state programming.

This mentoring guide covers methods that address the following components: internal processes, program best practices, overcoming roadblocks, lean efficiencies, limited resources, the importance of contract compliance and using the BFET Provider’s Handbook.

The overarching goal of peer-to-peer mentoring is to strengthen internal programs and ease potential burden.

What is Peer Mentoring?

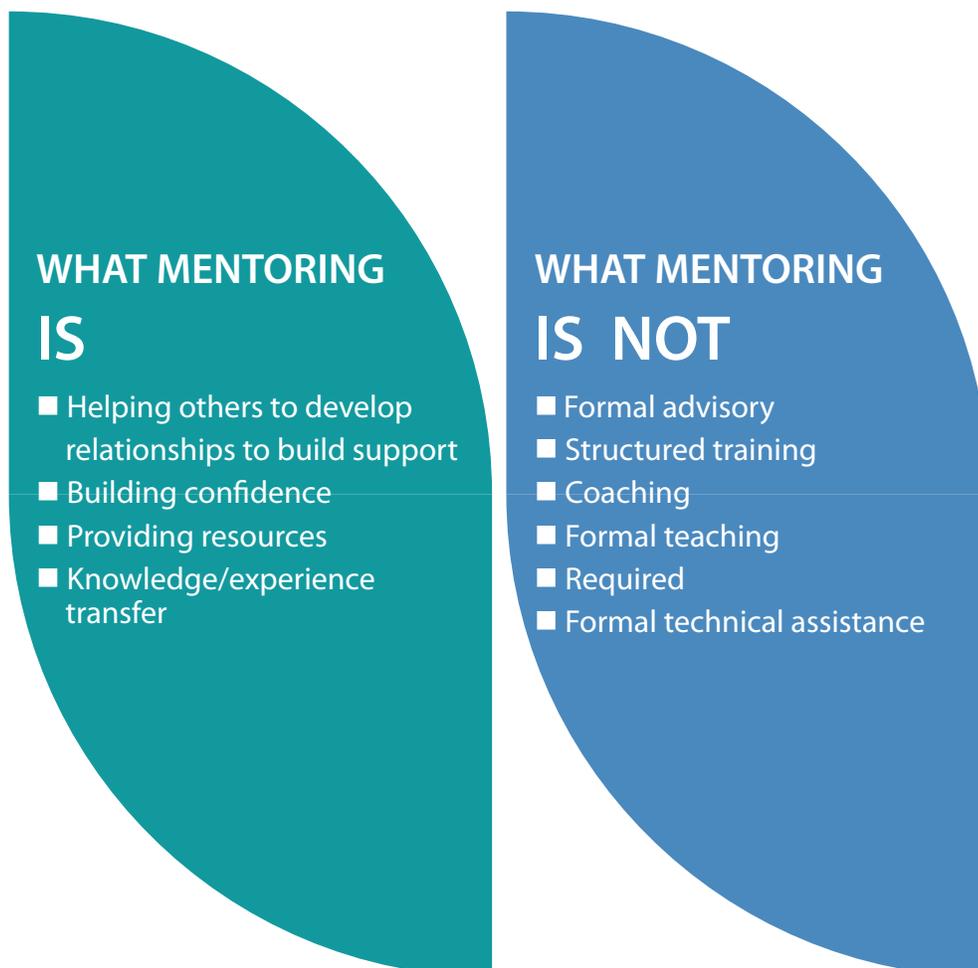

For this purpose, peer mentoring is helping provider staff develop a robust and effective BFET service operation. It is a relationship designed to build confidence and to support the mentee with additional known best practices to use within their own internal BFET development and work.

Many types of mentoring relationships exist. The two most common are:

Informal – spontaneous, unplanned, occurs “in the moment”.

Formal – intentional, have a specific plan, set up agreements.

For this purpose we will use Informal and Formal.

Benefits of Peer Mentoring

- Share BFET Best Practices

- Strengthen Service Models
- Empower Providers
- Collective Linkages
- Problem Solving-Solution Building

- Connect Providers at Various Levels
- Cross-Agency Support

Peer Mentoring Process

Formal training for mentors is not provided; however, the handbook and contract provide guidance.

Mentor Process

Step 1 Prospective peer mentors who are available to support other providers to achieve program process knowledge will review the Peer Mentoring Guide at www.dshs.wa.gov/bfet under “Provider Resources” for a clear understanding of the BFET mentorship program and supporting documents:

- 1) BFET Peer Mentoring Survey
- 2) Partnership Agreement
- 3) Planning Worksheet

Step 2 Complete the BFET Peer Mentor Survey and send to: SWBFETPolicy@dshs.wa.gov

Mentee Process

Step 1 The mentee has identified a need or considered the option to be mentored in order to strengthen their BFET program.

Step 2 Review the Peer Mentoring Guide at www.dshs.wa.gov/bfet under “Provider Resources” for a clear understanding of the BFET mentorship program and the supporting documents, including:

- 1) BFET Peer Mentoring Survey
- 2) Partnership Agreement
- 3) Planning Worksheet

DSHS/BFET

Step 3 Connection: Once DSHS has received a request and identified a match, DSHS will contact the mentor directly for an introduction process.

Step 4 Communication: DSHS would introduce mentee to mentor organization via email within three business days.

Mentor/Mentee Agreement

Step 5 Before mentoring sessions begins, both providers review and sign agreement and email to SWBFETPolicy@dshs.wa.gov.

This agreement will define boundaries, clarify expectations of mentorship, set goals, remind to maintain confidentiality and create plan for engagement.

Step 6 Mentoring Commences - Mentors meet mentees for a minimum of one or two hours a month over a four-month period. Meetings tend to be informal and relaxed, and focused on discussing how the BFET program is progressing as well as any barriers encountered. Progress will be documented on the Mentoring Planning Worksheet template to record progress.

Step 7 Upon mentoring completion, email a copy of final mentoring planning worksheet to SWBFETPolicy@dshs.wa.gov.
