I. Productivity Board awards must have account coding from the administration or program that is receiving the benefits from the suggestion being made (i.e. the award shall not be coded to the account coding used to process the employee’s salary and wages unless the award benefits the employee’s program). This must occur to ensure DSHS can support these expenditures as allowable federal costs.

Procedures

A. To report a Productivity Award, the administration authorizing payment sends:

1. A Productivity Award memorandum to the employee.
2. DSHS Form 03-426A Productivity Award Payment, with a copy of the Productivity award memorandum, with an original signature to the DSHS payroll office.

B. The DSHS payroll office processes the award amount in HRMS as a wage type 1146, which generates a payment as part of the employee’s wages and calculates the appropriate taxes. Awards coded to this wage type will be recorded under sub-object code NZ-SW91.
